LONG BEACH, Calif. – The Port of Long Beach reminds area motorists to sign up for weekly traffic and construction updates as work begins on the Gerald Desmond Bridge Replacement Project.

The updates, delivered via email every Friday, provide upcoming road closure information, detours and other traffic impacts associated with the new bridge and nearby projects. Updates can be received by joining the mailing list on the bridge project website.

Southern California residents also are encouraged to follow the bridge project on Twitter (@newgdbridge) to receive up-to-the-minute information during bridge-related traffic closures, suggested detours around impacted roads, bridge construction progress and fun facts about this future iconic structure. Persons who follow @newgdbridge on Twitter will be the first to receive the latest official information.

The weekly updates and periodic tweets will be especially important to commuters who use the existing Gerald Desmond Bridge to travel between Long Beach and San Pedro, as well as to Port workers who access Terminal Island regularly. The updates also include construction activity at Ocean Boulevard, Pico Avenue, the southern end of the 710 Freeway, and the Heim Bridge (SR-47).

For more information on weekly construction updates and to opt in, visit www.newgdbridge.com/subscribe.

You may also opt in using the "update subscription preferences" link at the bottom of this email.
