

New Phase Begins on West Anaheim St. Roadwork

Access to street from north reduced to Santa Fe, Harbor avenues

Feb. 11, 2014

Reconstruction of West Anaheim Street in West Long Beach has moved into a new phase concentrating on the two northern lanes and sidewalk on the east-west thoroughfare, while leaving two lanes of Anaheim open in each direction.

Access to Anaheim from the north is limited now, however, to just Harbor, Santa Fe or East I Avenue.

The latest phase is part of a 14-month Anaheim Street improvement project from the 710 Freeway to 9th Street at the western city limit that started in September 2013. The City of Long Beach Harbor Department is overseeing the work to improve the street, which is the northern boundary of the harbor district. In addition to roadway resurfacing, the project includes new sidewalks, bus stops, medians, access for the disabled and landscaping.

Businesses in the West Anaheim Street area with questions about construction, traffic and access issues can contact the Port of Long Beach at (562) 283-7715 or anaheimstreet@polb.com. For more information, see the website at www.polb.com/anaheimstreet.
