Port Offers Sponsorships to Community Groups Funds support organizations promoting arts, social justice, environment

Feb. 17, 2016

The Port of Long Beach will soon begin accepting applications for its community sponsorship program.

The Harbor Department provides sponsorship funds to socially responsible local groups for community events and activities that also help to inform residents about the Port while making Long Beach a better place to live and work.

Last October, Harbor Commissioners voted to award 76 sponsorships totaling $378,200 to local community organizations. The local groups receiving money represented a wide cross section of the city and supported causes such as the arts, environment, social justice and historic preservation.

Community groups can submit their sponsorship funding requests from Tuesday, March 1, through Friday, April 1. The next and last call for applications this year will be in September.

Applicants are advised to plan ahead for their events — after the application period closes, it will take about 45 days before recommendations will be sent to the Board of Harbor Commissioners for a decision. It is expected funding will be awarded in mid-May. There is no restriction on organizations that have received past awards. Applicants are judged on how they can help the Port inform the community of the many ways the Port of Long Beach is an integral part of the community fabric.
