Harbor Commission Appoints HR Director

Assistant Director Lewis promoted from within Harbor Department

June 28, 2017

The Long Beach Board of Harbor Commissioners on Monday approved the selection of Stacey Lewis as Director of Human Resources Services to lead the division that administers employment for the Harbor Department.

Lewis, the Port's Assistant Director of Human Resources, was promoted to Director following the retirement of the previous HR Director. The Harbor Department has approximately 550 employees in 21 divisions.

Lewis joined the Port of Long Beach in 2008. She was appointed Assistant Director of Human Resources in January 2009. Prior to coming to the Port, she was the president of a consulting firm providing services to several local municipalities and nonprofit organizations, including the Port. She was also the Civil Service Manager for the City of Torrance and has earned professional certifications from the International Public Management Association in Human Resources, Human Resources Certification Institute and the Society of Human Resources Management. Lewis earned a bachelor's degree in psychology with a concentration in organizational development from the University of Pacific in Stockton, Calif. She currently serves as a Commissioner for the Long Beach Unified School District Personnel Commission, and is an alumna of Leadership Long Beach Institute, where she now serves on the Executive Board.

The appointment of Lewis is effective July 1.

The Port of Long Beach is one of the world's premier seaports, a gateway for trans-Pacific trade and a trailblazer in goods movement and environmental stewardship. With 175 shipping lines connecting Long Beach to 217 seaports, the Port handles $180 billion in trade annually, supporting hundreds of thousands of Southern California jobs.
