

Beauty of the Port on Display at Art Museum

We're happy to invite you to the Port of Long Beach PHOTO Gallery at the Long Beach Museum of Art (LBMA). The gallery features photographs from local community members and this is the first year the photos are on display at LBMA.

For the fifth year, the Port has partnered with the Arts Council for Long Beach to provide a free learning experience to photographers of all different levels and the results are amazing. The 80 photographs on display will give you a unique perspective of the Port.

The PHOTO Gallery is already open to the public and will remain open through Oct. 22. Entrance to the PHOTO Gallery and the entire museum will be free for the duration of the show.

Although nothing beats seeing it in person, you can view all of the photos here.

Three winners from the program have already been chosen (see below), but one more needs to be selected by you! Cast a vote for your favorite photograph here. The fan favorite will be announced in early November. If you vote, you're eligible to win a special prize!

1st - Greg Bishop - Pinniped Beach
2nd - Denise Favre - Trans-Porting
3rd - William Zhang - Port Bow Colors
