

Beyond the Waterfront

Port partnerships support community events and activities

Free boat tours, a popular part of the Port's community outreach efforts, offer a close up look at Port operations, giant container ships and harbor wildlife such as these sea lions.

At the Port-sponsored Harbor Arbor Day, volunteers planted trees and restored the Wrigley Greenbelt in Long Beach's Wrigley Neighborhood.

The Port hosts a booth and sponsors the Long Beach Municipal Band concerts.

The Port co-sponsored the Smithsonian exhibit "From Sea to Shining Sea," which is at the El Dorado Park Library through August 30.

Port Scholars: Class of 2007

As part of The Port's educational outreach, the Port awards scholarships each year to outstanding students enrolled in maritime-related trade and international business programs at Long Beach City College and the international business and Master of Arts in Global Logistics programs at California State University, Long Beach.

This year's scholarship winners include:

LBCC School of Trade and Industrial Technologies:

- Prince Barrom (alternative fuels)
- Veasna Lim (welding)
- Eduardo Mendez (sheet metal)
- Scott Schenk (heating, ventilation and air conditioning)

LBCC international business program:

- William Chua
- Richard Contreras

CSULB international business program:

- Karim Nalbandy
- Thanh Chi Pham
- Ricardo Gonzales Rugamas
- Iris Souza

CSULB Master of Arts in Global Logistics (MAGL) program:

- Hui Liu
- Cara Royds
- Paul Merrit